ORGANIZED COUNTY BAND YESTERDAY

FOUR MORE CONCERTS TO BE GIVEN THIS YEAR

GOVERNORS OF DISTRICTS

Charles R. Gardner, Manager, and C. D. Kutschinski, Director—Barnard August 4

Organization of the Nodaway County band was completed yesterday afternoon when representatives of the different towns of the county met at the conservatory of Music in Maryville. The county was divided into four districts and each district will have one concert every year and one other concert will be given at the State Teachers College. The band was organized and will be conducted under the auspices of the State Teachers College. Charles R. Gardner will be manager and C. D. Kutschinski will be director.

Each district will elect a governor of the district who will, with the manager of the band, form a board of control to manage the affairs of the band.

The five concerts of the year will be proportioned out one to each district and one at the State Teachers College. The concert which was given at the College this spring during Music Week will count for the only one at the College this year. There has been only one definite date set for another combined concert it will be given at Barnard on August 4.

Mr. Gardner will call a rehearsal of the band some time in the near future.

When the bands give the concerts, each district will provide for the transportation of the members and the individual members will be responsible for expenses other than transportation.

The music will be selected by the manager of the band but will be paid for by the bands themselves.

Each district will decide for itself when they will have their concerts and for what purpose the concert will be used. Concerts will not be given in any district on Saturday evenings. Mr. Gardner expects to have a 150-piece band by next summer.

Maryville, Wilcox, Conception, Ravenwood, Parnell and Hopkins are in one district. Burlington Junction, Elmo and Clearmont in another; Barnard, Arkoe, Bethany Community and Guilford in another and Skidmore, Maitland, Quitman and Graham in another.

NEIGHBORS HELPED THE DORANS WITH HARVEST

Came in Yesterday Afternoon with Binders and Shockers—William in Hospital

The William Doran farm, about 8 miles northeast of Maryville, was invaded yesterday afternoon by about twenty-two friends and neighbors who came in to help cut and shock the wheat of William and Edward Doran. Three binders threw out the bundles and nineteen shockers, placed them in weather proof shocks to wait the threshing machine.

William Doran has been in the hospital since about January with a broken leg. He was thrown from a horse and his limb broken, the bone piercing the flesh and going into the ground.

The physicians have been anxious since then for fear that the leg would have to be amputated. It is thought now that his leg will be saved.

All of the burden of the farm work has fallen on Edwards shoulders. The neighbors recognizing the difficulty which confronted him took yesterday as the day to help him put his wheat in the shock. The Doran boys have about 60 acres of fine wheat.

S. P. ALLISON GAVE SERMON FOR INDEPENDENCE DAY

Says That the American Nation Has Gained First Place in World Because of Idealism

"Little did the embattled farmers at Lexington and Concord dream that the shots they were firing were to be heard around the world. Little did they realize what the firing of those shots would mean to the future generations. Little do we today realize the significance of our acts and what they will mean to the future generations."

The foregoing are some of the statements that were made last night at the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. S. P. Allison and his Independence Day Sunday services.

"The things we do today have not only a present but a future. We reap what we sow. The sowing is merely a part of the harvest."

It is Mr. Allison's belief that the American nation is continually reaping what it has sown. It has shown the world that it wished to deal fair an dsquare with all and the result is that the other nations are looking this way for their guidance and ideals. The American nation has conducted its affairs in the world in such a way that the other nations have grown to have a confidence in her such as no other country enjoys.

The word "Idealism" was coined in the last few years but the principle has existed in the American people from the very beginning. The Puritans came to this country because of their ideals. Our wars have all been fought because of ideals.

THE ALEYS WEDDED ON JULY 4, 1850

BURLINGTON JCT. COUPLE CELEBRATE 72d ANNIVERSARY JULY 4

BOTH ALERT AND ACTIVE

Mr. Aley Is a Great Angler and His Wife Quilts and Visits Among the Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. George Aley of Burlington Junction will celebrate their seventy-second wedding anniversary tomorrow in a quiet way, enjoying with themselves and their children the many happy days of their wedded life and the many golden happenings of ninety-one and ninety-two years. Mr. and Mrs. Aley are both enjoying good health and are both extremely active for their ages. He is ninety-one years old and has the appearance of a man who is not past sixty. He swaps jokes with every one in town, enjoys fishing and gardening and is physically sound with only a slight defect of his eyes.

Mrs. Aley is ninety-two and just as young in appearance as her husband in actions. Her life is filled with active interest with her neighbors, quilting, and sharing a companionship with Polly, her parrot, which she has had for about twenty years. Polly is getting pretty old but the association with Mrs. Aley for so long has so wedded her to 'Ma' as she calls her, that even a short visit away from home annoys her to great grief.

Mr. and Mrs. Aley are great lovers of their home and children and in the past years they have had some great reunions with their children. They have eight living sons and daughters, eighteen grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren. The last reunion that they had was four years ago when they met at Burlington Junction and went to the Harvest Home Grove for their visit. All of the living children and most of the grandchildren were present at this time, except Henderson Aley, their grandson, who was at that time serving in the United State Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Aley were both born in Tennessee near Clinton in McMinn County. There is just a year and a month's difference in their ages, he was born June 12, 1831, and she was born May 12, 1830. Her maiden name was Talitha Jane Hayes.

They were married at Clinton July 4, 1850, when she was twenty years old and he was nineteen. In 1865 they moved to Monmouth, Ill., where they lived until 1883 when they moved to Nodaway County, Missouri and settled on a farm near Quitman. They settled at this place because L. H. McCommon, who had been a neighbor of theirs in Illinois, had preceeded them to Missouri and had settled near Quitman. Later the family moved to a farm near Maryville and lived there until 1905 when they moved to Burlington, where they have lived for the past seventeen years.

During the Civil War Mr. Aley was in sympathy with the Union cause and worked in the timbers for the United States Government. At that time there were six children and one baby in the family and Mrs. Aley recalls many times when, first the confederate army and then the Union army came past their place. She says that it often happened that they would be preparing a meal and before the family would sit down to it, soldiers would pass and take the food and she would have to prepare another meal. She says that she has prepared a meal for the family as many as six times only to have it taken by the soldiers.

In spite of her age Mrs. Aley does not consider that she is old. The other day while trying to recall some incident of the past, she remarked, "I don't know what in the world would become of me if I should live to be an old lady." When asked if she didn't think that she was pretty old she replied "well I'm not a hundred yet." Her mind is active and her eyesight is unusually good. She reads a great deal and never uses glasses to aid her sight. Until recently she did her own house work and spent much time quilting. Mrs. Aley also spends much time visiting with her neighbors.

Because of his eye sight Mr. Aley does not read but spends much of his time in the summer fishing. During the winter months he prepares for the warm days on the river. Last winter when George W. Aley of Maryville visited his father, he found him out in the barn, where he had just

POWERFUL RADIO SET FOR KESSLER

FEW LIKE IT IN THE UNITED STATES

DESCRIBES AMPLIFICATION

Detector Transforms Radio Energy into Audible Energy—Sound Called Sensation

The Kessler H. F. Laboratory has just completed the installation of a powerful radio receiving set. This set embodies the new principal of radio amplication in connection with the present system of radio amplification now in general use. It employs seven tubes, one as a detector and six amplifiers. Two of these are used for audio frequency amplification and four as radio frequency amplification, the new amplifying system.

The radio system of reception an amplification can be described briefly as follows, says Mr. Kessler:

"The detector serves as a rectifier to transform radio energy into audible energy. As is commonly known, sound is a sensation. The bodies whence the sound proceeds must necessarily have been thrown into a state of agitation or tremor, either by being struck or other means, which causes a vibratory motion. This motion in some instances is visable to the eye, as in the case of a mental plate or cymbal being struck. It may then be seen in a vibratory state and motion may be felt if lightly touched with the fingers.

"However, all vibrations are not audible to the human ear. The ear is sensitive only to a certain range of vibration, which are in the fourth to the fifteenth octaves inclusive, and cover a range of 16 to 32,768 vibrations a second. It may be said here that the range of the human voice is from 200 to about 1,200 vibrations a second, 800 being the average, and possibly 1,300 for an extreme high soprano.

"The vibrations sent out by a radio transmitting station is covered by the twenty-fifth octaves inclusive, and includes vibrations from 33,554,432 to 34,359,368 a second. This is beyond the audible range of the human ear. This difference necessitates some apparatus to transform the high vibrations to lower ones, which will be confined within the fourth to the fifteen octaves inclusive. This is the purpose of the detector tube.

"The detector tube is composed of three component parts, contained within a vacuum, namely filament grid, and plate. The filament is in the center, encircled by the spiral wound grid. The plate in turn surrounds these two. The filament is excited by a current of six volts and the plate by from eighteen to twenty-two and one-half volts D. C. When the tube is in operation, there is a bombardment of elections between the filament and plate, passing thru the grid. This bombardment fluctuates according to the signal that is being received. The tube is then oscillating and the vibrations sent out of the tube are then audible to the ear through the head phones. The signals, however, may be amplified several hundred times by using audio frequency transformers and tubes. A signal that is too weak to cause the tube to oscillate cannot be picked up by the old system of radio frequency.

"With the new system of amplification the signal is amplified before it reaches the tube. This is called radio amplification at radio frequency. In other words, the radio frequency amplifiers amplify the higher vibrations, which are not audible to the ear, and the audio frequency amplifiers amplyfy the vibrations which are audible to the ear. Thus the new set amplifies the radio frequency signals four times and the audio frequency two times."

Under unfavorable conditions because of static interference, tests were made by Kessler. He was able to receive Westinghouse of East Pittsburgh, Pa., Sweeny Radio Company of Kansas City., Mo., Omaha Grain Exchange, Omaha, Neb. An indoor aerial of eighteen inches square wound with ten turns of 18 wire was used. This reception record is remarkable because of the fact that no out-door aerial was used.

Kessler placed his order for the necessary apparatus for this set when he was in Kansas City last October. it was just received last week. There are but few of these sets in the U. S. as Kessler received one of the first to be released by the manufacturers.

BARNARD DELEGATION UP BEFORE COUNTY COURT

Petition Bearing 179 Names Protested Against Court's Order for Bridge Removal.

A delegation from Barnard composed of John A. Fields and Sam J. Smith as members of the drainage board, and Judge Floyd Westfall, J. G. Skidmore, Dr. J. A. Larrabee, Lowell Campbell William Rhoades and George Rose appeared before county court today in regard to the court's order for the removal of the old river bridge, west of Barnard to the new drainage ditch and to build a dam near the old bridge in the old channel of the river. The court was in Barnard last Thursday and decided to make an order to this effect but a petition containing the names of 179 residents of that community protesting against the order was presented to the court today.

The court heard the case as presented by the remonstrators through their attorney, Judge W. C. Ellison in their petition, they stated:

"There is a water course of considerable size flowing into the said 102 river between said county bridge as it now stands and the mouth of the new channel being cut by the drainage district at said point that drains and carries the surface water from contiguous territory in large volumes and the water from said water course, if said contemplated dam is built will overflow and damage a large area of land, making the same unfit for cultivation and for residence purposes and being detrimental to the health and sanitary conditions of the community; that the construction of a dirt dam across said old channel in lieu of said old bridge will wash out or become impassable from the flow of the waters from said water course and make the roads impassable and prevent the proper ingress and egress to and from the town of Barnard by persons having business in said town."

Decision has not been made by the court at press time this afternoon. Fred Harvey appeared as attorney for the drainage district.

The court will adjourn this evening to meet again Wednesday. They will appoint the judges and clerks of the primary election to be held on August 1.

DON'T SHOOT BIG FIRE CRACKERS

AND YOU MUSA NOT USE A LOT OF OTHER THINGS

LIKELY TO BE ARRESTED

Mayor Robinson Says Ordinances Are For Protection of Life, Limb and Property

Be careful about the kind of fireworks you use tomorrow. If you are not you may be arrested and fined. And don't use any tonight for again you may come to grief and find yourself facing the police judge.

The city ordinances say that it shall be considered a misdemeanor to to fire within the city limits of Maryville any bombs, blank cartridges, cap pistols, dynamite canes or crackers more than three inches long or a quarter of an inch in diameter. Those who violate this ordinance are liable to arrest and payment of a fine.

Another ordinance says that it shall be a misdemeanor to fire within the city limits any kind of fireworks on any day other than July 4, with the exception of the years when the Fourth falls on Sunday, in which case they are to be fired only on July 3.

Another ordinance says that dealers shall not sell or display firewroks on any day other than July 4 and that they shall not sell at any time the kinds that are prohibited in Maryville under penalty of a fine.

Mayor F. P. Robinson said this morning that these ordinances were made for the protection of the limbs and property of the people of Maryville and that they would be inforced. The police department has been instructed to make arrests for all violations.

"There has been a time in Maryville," says the mayor "when several persons were injured each Fourth of July with the large crackers and various other heavy forms of fireworks Often three or four fires started on the Fourth from crackers. In addition to this there were fights and quarrels over the abuse of the celebration."

Some of the boys have been firing a few crackers about town during the last few days. It is supposed that they were purchased in St. Joseph or some of the other towns other than Maryville. They fired them unlawfully.

But as long as you stay within the law as to kinds to fire you may shoot crackers to your heart's content tomorrow from morning until night and have no fear that you will be grabbed by the law.

RECOMMENDS A UNION OF MEN NOT OUT ON STRIKE

Detroit July 3—If the railway labor board will vote to hold the wage cut in abeyance, pending a rehearing, the strike order affecting 280,000 members of the maintenance of way and shop workers, the union will not be injured.

John Hall, secretary, declared in Chicago that the railway employees who struck against the railway labor board's decision were formally outlawed by the board today.

The board recommended that a new union be formed of the men to jobs and that protection of these men is promised insofar as it is within the power of the board. This means a definite breake between the board and the raiway employees.

SOME CLOSE GAMES OF BASEBALL YESTERDAY

Clearmont Won From Hopkins by a Score of 6 to 5—Several Games Tomorrow.

In a baseball game played at Clearmont between Clearmont and Hopkins, Clearmont won by a score of 6 to 5. Hopkins was in the lead 4 to 1 until the seventh inning when Clearmont brought in five scores. Hopkins scored one in the eighth. Churchill for Hopkins and Kinuckles got three hits apiece. The batteries were Bickson and Turner for Hopkins; Knuckles and Carmichael for Clearmont. The crowd attending the game was one of the largest ever at a baseball game in Clearmont. Clearmont will play Shambaugh at Shambaugh on July 9, and Wilcox will play Clearmont at Clearmont on July 16.

Ravenwood defeated Darlington on the Ravenwood court by a score of 11 to 5. Darlington was shut out until in the seventh inning. Ross, Ravenwood's moundsman struck out eight men and Enoch for Darlington struck out six. The batteries were: Ravenwood—Ross and Bishop; Darlington—Enoch and Baker.

Ravenwood will meet Wilcox on the Ravenwood diamond as one of the features of the Fourth of July celebration tomorrow. Ravenwood has lost to Wilcox twice this year but with the lead that she held yesterday over Darlington, it is thought that she will run a close race with Wilcox.

The game between Elmo and Shambaugh at Elmo was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of rain. At this time the score stood 12 to 7 in favor of Elmo. The batteries were Hubbles and Wiles for Shambaugh and Huffstutter caught and Lance and Nicholls pitched for Elmo.

Elmo will play Coin, Ia., tomorrow at the Coin Baseball park.

Graham lost to the St. Joseph Federals at Graham by a score of 5 to 3. It was a close and a good game. During the fourth and fifth innings the score toosd at a tie of 3 to 3. Goglars and McDowell was the battery for Graham. It is said that the St. Joseph men were selected from three different teams.

Graham will play Mound City tomorrow. The battery will be Thorban and McDowell.

Are Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Cleav J. Funk and son, William, of Omaha arrived Saturday night for a visit at the home of Mrs. Funk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Sturm. Mr. Funk returned to Omaha this morning while Mrs. Funk and son will remain for a longer visit.

No Council Meeting Tomorrow

The regular monthly meeting of the city council will be postponed until Wednesday evening this month, instead of Tuesday, which is July 4.

Mrs. H. W. White went to Chicago this morning to spend a month visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Peters.

finished painting some cane fishing poles with red paint. The corks for his lines he had finished up with some white paint so they would be more easily seen and was anxious for the time when he could get his cushion and hit it for the shady plane on the creek bank. Mr. Aley is particular about the place where he fishes and always finds one which will give him the most comfort, because he fishes for the sport of it and not for the big catch, although he does come home with many creditable hauls.

He is active with garden work. This year he has something like 500 or 600 sweet potato plants set out and every year he has a garden which is envied by his neighbors. He has not been active in farm work since he moved to Burlington Junction, seventeen years ago. In the winter time he gathers with the sages of the town at the mill and challenges them to games of checkers and dominoes.

The old age of this couple, accompanied by their good health, is thought to be due in a great respect to their regular habits. Every evening after the clock strikes nine the couple retire and are always up the next morning at 5 o'clock. Their breakfast is ready by 6 o'clock, dinner at 11 o'clock and supper at 5 o'clock and there are few times that these arrangements are changed.

Old age however has played an important part in the lives of their parents. Mrs. Aley's father died when he was 96 years old from a bleeding of the lungs caused by a six-mile hike which he took to catch a train. Mr. Aley's mother and father both lived to be quite old.

Eight of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Aley are still living. Mrs. Lon Fordyce, their daughter, died at Maryville in 1914. The other children are: Mrs. Samuel Burris and Mrs. Henry Gee, Burlington Junction; Mrs. Henderson McKee, Monmouth, Ill.; Mrs. Grant Cordell, White River, S. Dak.; Mrs. Albert Severn, Chicago; John Aley, Hopkins; Columbus Aley, near Hopkins and George W. Aley, Maryville.

Most of the children were home for their mothers birthday this year in the spring.

To Go to Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. James Arnett and two children will leave in the morning for Columbia, Mo., where they will visit several days with Mr. Arnett's father and his sister, Mrs. Quienberry.

WITH NODAWAY CO. FARMERS

R. E. Allen

R. E. Allen just east of Maryville expects to finish today his harvest of 85 to 90 acres of wheat. The rains last week held him up considerably in the work so that it was necessary for him to run his binder yesterday. He had six horses on his eight-foot machine and was kicking out the bundles in a hurry. Considerable of the wheat was down and it was shattering badly, due to the fact that it was over ripe. Mr. Allen's crop is especially heavy. A field in the corner of the Arkoe and State road, containing about fifteen acres, made twenty-eight bushels to the acre last year and it is a lot better this year. It has been estimated that it will run from thirty to thirty-five bushels this year. Mr. Allen says that the grains are plump and nice and that his wheat is not infested with Hessian fly.

Cut On Sunday

Due to the rains last week that held the farmers out of their fields a part of the time it was deemed necessary by a number of them to cut yesterday lest other rains come and they loose the crop. It is shattering badly at a number of places and is going down at some points. Another rain on some of the fields before they are cut may cause a big loss. Wheat cutting yesterday was especially prevalent in the One Hundred and Two River bottoms. George Lucas and U. S. Wright southeast of town, were among others who were in the field with their binders.

A. E. Clause, who rented this spring the 160-acre farm of the Allen Bros., three miles south of Maryville, has ninety acres of corn and has a two-row and a single-row cultivator at work laying it by. He says that the corn looks fine. Mr. Clause says that he has never in his experience of farming seen corn grown faster than it has done during the past week. Mr. Clause does not have any small grain but there are thirty acres of meadow on the farm. The remainder of the place is in pasture.

Mr. Clause lives in Maryville but he expects soon to move out to the farm. The Allen Bros. are having the house papered and expect to build a porch on it soon. Mr. Clause formerly ran a hotel at Burlington Junction and came to Maryville three years ago.

D. O. Belt, near Maryville, reports that about one-half of 1 per cent of his wheat crop is infested with Hessian fly. He also reports infestation in the fields of Jesse Shinabargar and William Sturm.

Jesse Smith says that about one third of his wheat has fly in it and that they are doing serious damage to his crop. He reports fly in the field of Joe Honer, near Maryville.

George Fred Davis, near Maryville, says that there is not any infestation of fly in his wheat. He says 'we have no chinch bugs, smut, or rust in our wheat and the quality is fine."

R. M. Heflin in the Harmony community says there are flies in his wheat. He does not know how much damage is being done, but a great deal of straw is falling. Harry Lewis has some fly in his wheat. Mr. Heflin says.

O. T. Karr of Skidmore says there is no fly in his wheat and none close that he know of.

Paul E. Campbell of Barnard has a small per centage of his crop is infested, but the crop is not suffering serious damage.

Fred Ager near Graham has found a few flies but they are not doing any serious damage.

J. A. Rogers, Clearmont, reports no fly in his field but some in the field of Ed Dew.

C. L. Calfee, Elmo says that 5 per cent of his crop is infested but that serious damage is not being done. He says that fly may be found in the fields of C. A. Carter and Frank Wood.

House Wife needs To Add To Her Stock Of Recipes

"Those who have made cooking a study will tell you that the average woman in the home uses very few recipes. She has her favorite cake, her favorite pie and pudding, her way of frying beefstake and roasting pork, and perhaps it is wise, because if she knows just how to make these things taste good, and her family enjoys them it would be foolish to try so many different recipes. But the woman who does these things well must add to her recipes to have a variety, and she must do some experimenting of her own. A few words of appreciation greatly encourage a cook, and oftentimes a friend may know of a new recipes for a dainty desert or fancy salad which would be valuable to keep therefore, add to recipes of this collection."

"Helpful Hints for the Young Wife" is the title of a "homemade" cookbook by Mrs. Alma W. Lynn, 2550 Charlotte street (published by the Western Baptist Publishing Company, Kansas City), from the foreward of which the above paragraph is taken. This little book, attractively bound in a gift edition, does not pretend to tell all there is to know about cookery. Mrs. Lynn has compiled the recipes she has found reliable in nearly a score of years as a housewife. She has added brief chapters on canning fruits, laying the table and the care of the baby.

Here Is the Tool That Completes the Fordson Farming Cycle

FOR many years the tractor has performed satisfactorily with plow, harrow, drill and belt-driven tools. But, how to utilize Fordson power in cultivating corn has been a problem. That vacancy in the cycle which would otherwise be complete has now been filled by the Amsco Two-row Cultivator.

With this machine, the Fordson cultivates thoroughly from the first cultivation to the last. This new machine has accomplished remarkable results. It marks the end of monotonous cultivating behind slow plodding teams.

The construction of this machine is simplicity itself. No unnecessary parts. No unnecessary friction. The cultivator is light running and easy to handle.

This is the last word in Standard Fordson Equipment, and every farmer in this community should see it.
